Author Rosa Kwon Easton's Best Seller "White Mulberry" | Asian American Life

Author Rosa Kwon Easton's debut novel "White Mulberry" is a historical fiction and coming-of-age story, inspired by her grandmother's experience growing up during the Japanese occupation of Korea in the 1930'. The book has received positive reviews and reached #1 on Amazon's First Reads Editors' Pick for Historical Fiction. In this segment, we get up close and personal with the author who shares her intimate journey

NYC Nurses Strike And Its Impact On Filipino Nurses | Asian American Life

In January, over 1,000 Filipino nurses from three different hospital systems took part in the largest nurses' strike in New York City's history. We hear from the Filipino nurses who joined the picket lines fighting for higher pay, safer staffing levels, a better work environment and stronger legal protection for themselves and their patients.
